

Figure 1 – figure supplement 1: The fraction of indels (left panel) and substitutions (right panel) observed in microsatellites, homopolymers, short homopolymers and in non-repeat regions compared to their expected fraction in these regions. Data are shown for the individual MMR-deficient tumors. In all 3 tumors, substitutions predominantly affected non-repeat regions, while indels were mainly confined to homopolymers.