

Figure 4 – figure supplement 4: The observed and expected frequencies of indels recurrently affected in homopolymers (in at least 2 out of 16 tumors) stratified for homopolymer length and for those affecting coding exonic regions and the 3'UTR. The difference between observed and expected recurrent indels is high for short homopolymers, but non-existent for long homopolymers.